<sup>1</sup> The target net annual return is a forward-looking estimate over a 5-year period and includes distributions. The target does not represent returns obtained by investors and is not guaranteed. Actual returns may differ materially due to various factors. The target is based on internal modeling and may be updated from time to time by Obsiido.

<sup>2</sup> This is the current target strategic asset allocation mix for the Portfolio. The actual asset allocation, at any given time, may differ for a number of reasons, including for tactical reasons. Asset allocation decisions are at the discretion of Obsiido, as the portfolio manager.

<sup>3</sup> As of December 31, 2024 and at the master fund level. The Portfolio invests in the master fund either directly or indirectly via other underlying funds.

<sup>4</sup> Past performance is not necessarily indicative of any future results. Returns shown for Series F and Series I are total returns (assuming distributions are reinvested). The returns are net of administration fees and management fees. Annualized returns express the rate of return of the series over a given time period on an annual basis. This figure is not the actual returns of the series. The Sharpe ratio is calculated by subtracting the risk-free rate (in this case, FTSE Canada 30 Day T-bill Index) from the return and dividing by the standard deviation of the returns.
